Corn Moves in Narrower Range. Corn fluctuated with wheat, but within a narrower range. Trade was mainly local. The opening, which varied from ¼ down to ¼ advance, was followed by a slight general rise, with a setback later and a subsequent rally.
Oats proved relatively stronger than corn. Shorts in oats were more in-clined to cover on declines. Provisions, like grain, had an un-settled character. Strength in the hog market failed to have the usual steady WHEAT-

NEW YORK GANGSTERS' DEATH KNELL SOUNDED

Twelve Blanket Indictments Voted Against Thirty-Four Men for Various Crimes.

NEW YORK, May 12.-The twelve blanket indictments voted yesterday against thirty-four men, charging them with various crimes, from rioting and assault to first degree murder, in con-nection with garment workers' strikes, sound the death knell of the New York gangster and are the forerunner of other wholesale arrests, according to District Attorney Perkins. At the disrict attorney's office it was said today that detectives had found a "clearing house for crime, run by gangsters in this city," and that every gang leader operating in New York had been eliminated.
Assistant District Attorney Breckin-ridge, who has supervised the investi-gation, described the system of the gation, des gangsters:

Gang System. "The city was divided into districts, in each of which one gang had the monopoly," he said. "Gangsters were hired for various jobs, and if they were arrested and convicted their pay went on during the time they were in jail. In one case 'Dopey Benny' and three gangsters were sent to the workhouse for from fifteen to thirty days each. During all this time each man was paid $15 a day by a labor union. The prices paid for jobs ranged from $5 to $150.

FINANCIAL.

A Splendid Investment,

A Splendid Investment,

I recommend to my clients and to the investing public the purchase of Capital Traction Stock. It is a high-grade security selling way below its true value, and $40 per share less than its nominal market price. For years it has been recognized as a standard investment, always acceptable as collateral to the banks. The property is well equipped and prudently and honestly managed. For the years 1905 to 1914 the company paid annual dividends of 8 per cent, and for the year 1914, a year of marked business depression, it paid from railway operation 516, per cent in dividends, carried $56,722 to depreciation, $37,125 to surplus and paid in merit awards to motormen and conductors $21,698. In 1905 this stock sold for over $150 per share, and except on its present decline, has not sold below 117 since June, 1902. I expect the company to enjoy even greater success in the future, and I consider this an opportunity to become identified as a stockholder in a standard home property at less than its actual or investment worth.
